REDS LIFT BAR ON CAPITAL

FRENCH HOPE TO END COIN CRISIS BY DEFT OFFERS

Herriot Seeks to Restore Credit.

BY HENRY WALES.

PARIS, April 3.—The French government crisis was prolonged until last night when Premier Herriot took the chamber of deputies into his new mission of finance, Anatole de Monzie, to seek out a new financial policy with the necessary reforms to save the franc and to reduce the cost of living.

"The government will submit to parliament as soon as possible necessary reforms for inclusion in the general plan for stabilizing finances which alone can assure the revalorization of the franc, the reduction of the cost of living and our political independence with control of our foreign affairs," M. Herriot said.

His last words mean that M. Herriot and M. de Monzie intend to take immediately the problem of the franc into their hands and to attempt to arrange a new financial policy with the necessary reforms to save the franc and to reduce the cost of living.

The French will be free of pressure from Washington and London.

US Offer Concrete Plan.

The Tribune is informed that M. Herriot suggested M. de Monzie to draw up a concrete plan to the subject of the United States state department and the French government for the purpose of the debt based on the recommendation of Winston Churchill, British chancellor of the exchequer, who refused the French obligations to Great Britain to about 1,600,000,000 francs ($25,000,000).

The French will suggest that the United States make similar reductions in the connection Leon Chevenon, who is close to a certain cabinet member in the newspaper information, to day bluntly suggested that France should not be foreign possessions to restore her finances and to liquidate her external debt.

"In face of the extraordinary debts to the United States and Great Britain, who are not extraordinary measures like in 1919, when Napoleon sold Louisiana to Jefferson for $3,000,000 francs," he says. "We would not sell our largest colonies, but we must recognize the necessity of making opportunities."

Herriot Given Another Chance.

The overwhelming vote of confidence for the government this afternoon, when the lower chamber, except for a handful of Communists, gave M. Herriot the boldest to 29, does not completely restore the strength of the cabinet position.

The National bloc voted with the Radical bloc merely to give M. Herriot and his new finance minister time to draft their new financial program for announcement in parliament next week. Should his proposals amount to a 10 per cent levy on capital, as some of the Senate circles, the senate is expected to defeat them, and may force new elections.

Belgian Quarrel Halted.

M. de Monzie's entry into M. Herriot's cabinet marks an end to the relations which threatened the Radical and Communist existence. M. de Monzie obtained M. Herriot's promise that he would not represent the Radical bloc in the Chamber of Deputies, and that he would not be responsible to everybody, permitting M. Herriot to make good his promise to the Communists, while satisfying his opponents, who insist on maintaining relations with the pope.

From this sacrifice, however, M. Herriot remains where he was before, although flitting with the right and left national bloc on the matter of domestic reforms, he will try to jam through the measure which the Radical bloc demands.

Ray Deeds Capital Levy.

A local O'Leary spokesman, however, told THE TRIBUNE today that a capital levy is extremely unlikely for the reason that it will be practically impossible to apply it generally, as the necessary machinery and the necessary machinery cannot be reached.

His informed opinion is that the French cabinet is doomed, with a coup d'etat on the limit, as the Radical bloc cannot control the senate and even M. de Monzie's moderate proposals will be vetoed by the venerable Radical majority.

The French cabinet will be a Paul Painleve cabinet, with Paul Painleve holding the portfolio of finance, M. de Monzie foreign minister, and M. Francois-Marsal as minister of justice.

THE SLAUGHTER OF THE PEDESTRIANS

ROLLIN A. KEYES, LONG A BUSINESS LEADER, IS DEAD

Rollin Arthur Keyes, 70 years old, president of the Franklin MacVeach company, wholesale grocers, died last night at his home at 497 Sheridan road, Evanston, after a week's illness. Heart disease was the cause of death.

Mr. Keyes was born in Somerville, Mass., in 1854 and came to Chicago at the age of 9. He was educated in the public schools. When 17 years old he entered the MacVeach company as an office boy.

His rise in the company was rapid. At the age of 26 he was admitted to the firm. In 1909, when the business was incorporated he was made president.

Mr. Keyes' first wife died in 1923. In July of last year he married Mrs. W. Dix Webster of Evanston. Upon their return from a trip to Europe Mr. Keyes continued to be active in his business, and it was only a few days ago that illness forced him to leave his desk.

Mr. Keyes is survived by his widow, a son, Rollin W. Keyes, and two daughters, Mrs. C. S. Slade. Mr. Keyes was an enthusiastic golfer.

Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon in the St. Luke's Episcopal church. Burial will be in Rosehill cemetery.

It shows that these voters disapprove of the operation more than the ownership in the ordinance. But this poll is much more unfavorable to the opponents of the ordinance than other polls heretofore printed. The public appears by comparison of polls to be gaining a more favorable view of the operating question. The vote on this question as well as the first seems to indicate that the public is about equally divided for and against the ordinance.

Every poll taken to date of the west side shows it more favorable to the opponents of the ordinance than either of the other two divisions of the city. It is on the west side that the Democrats are most numerous. It is there that the ordinance has its greatest strength.

Pollmen Aren't Working.
The conclusion to be drawn from the west side polls is that the Democratic leaders, with a few exceptions, have not exerted themselves for the ordinance in any way that shows in the polls. The referendum vote will be taken next Tuesday.

The poll to date represents public sentiment as formulated by the people themselves. It is an expression without the effect of political influence, because little has been done of an effective nature by either proponents or opponents to convince the public either for or against the ordinance.

How They Vote on Operation.
The vote in the theaters on the second question on the ballot operation under the Dever plan of both surface and elevated lines, resulted as follows:

R. H. Burke of the real estate firm of O'Connor, Burke & McDonnell wrote Tribune yesterday as follows:
"About ten days ago the Cook county Real Estate board adopted a resolution condemning the traction ordinance. This apparently was done with the idea of convincing the public that the real estate men of Chicago are against the ordinance."

Real Estate Men Convinced.
A canvass was made of 430 south side real estate men, members of both the Chicago and the Cook County Real Estate boards, with the following results:

For the ordinance	469
Against ordinance	11
Total	480

"This shows conclusively the honest opinion of real estate men on the south side, and we believe that it is only fair that the people of Chicago should know this."

M. J. FAHERTY COMES OUT FOR DEVER TRACTION

Tells His Experience as Transit Builder.

Michael J. Faherty, who was head of the board of local improvements in the Thompson administration and who pushed other public improvements during that regime, came out last night as an advocate of the Dever transportation ordinance.

In a letter to THE TRIBUNE, Mr. Faherty recalled his experience as an associate of the late D. H. Lauderback in building the Northwestern elevated road and the surface line linking Lake View and Evanston, and opening up thereby vast residential sections.

As indicating his experience in developing transit facilities, Mr. Faherty recalls the Lauderback enterprises and says:

"I personally spent two years conducting meetings all over the north side and Lake View creating sentiment favorable to the Northwestern 'L.' I knew of many people who put their money into it and who never received fair returns."

Requires Skilled Management.
"This experience," Mr. Faherty writes, "enables me to get a view into the difficulty of handling traction problems. The traction companies have to deal with the public the same as any other business corporation or company. It is a separate and distinct business and can be successfully handled only by men who have had experience in that particular line."

"I would be useless to ask Marshall Field & Co. to turn the management of their store over to the mayor and city council and expect them to make the business pay or run it successfully, and in my judgment it is more difficult to try to handle the traction business with the little experience that these public officials have."

"I also know from experience that the street car companies have never asked from the public anything that would benefit themselves that would not also benefit the public."

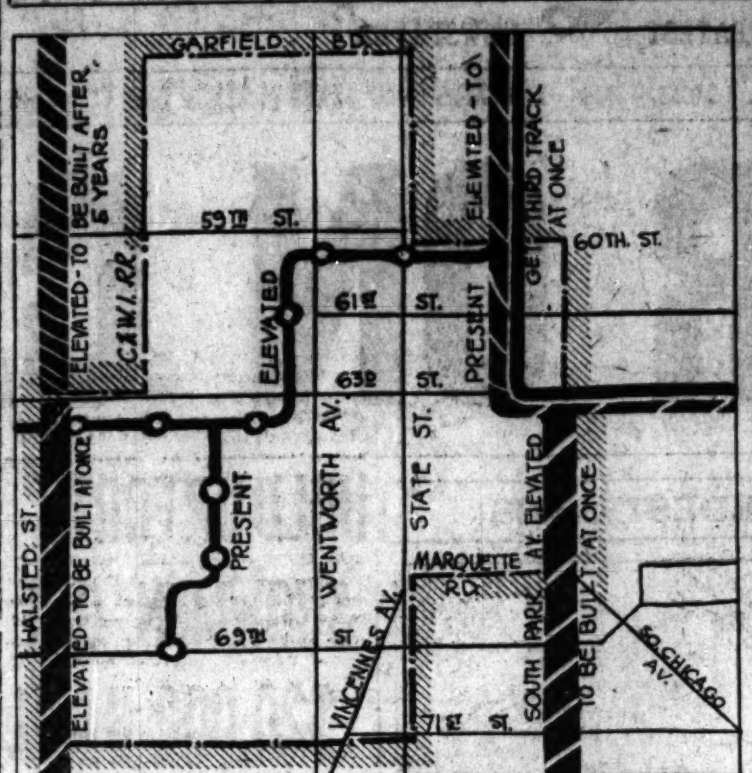

No Other Proposal Made.
"I would like to inquire of the prominent gentlemen who are today opposing the traction ordinance what they have done, if anything, toward giving the north side the transportation facilities it now has."

"If the prominent men who are opposing the ordinance were really in earnest and sincere they would have upon the ballot to be voted upon next Tuesday their ideas of what an ordinance should be, but as it is today the voter is obliged to say 'Yes' or 'No' upon a single proposition, without any alternative."

Will Settle the Question.
"In my judgment, if the pending traction ordinance is approved by the voters and its validity sustained, I believe it will settle the traction question. It will unify the surface and elevated lines, with lower fares and universal transfers and furnish service on the basis of cost."

"The construction of new surface

BRENNAN LEADS ORGANIZATION TO AID DEVER PLAN

Democratic Leaders Unite to Boost Traction.

Strong enthusiasm of the campaign for the adoption of Mayor Dever's traction ordinance yesterday afternoon when the full strength of the Democratic organization was brought to the support of the measure.

This hundred Democratic ward committees, aldermen, members of the legislature, judges of all the courts, city and county officials and officers of various organizations—cheered speeches supporting the ordinance and there was not a dissenting voice when its adoption was voted.

All of the big Democratic leaders were present at the meeting held in the Wald Sherman and participated in the demonstration for the ordinance, which was held at the opposition of all of the party in the organization.

Some of Those Present.
County Treasurer Patrick J. Carr,
A. J. Ormak, president of the county board; James T. Igoe, former city clerk; Michael Kenna, first ward leader; Congressman Stanley H. Kunz, Adolph J. Sabath, and Thomas J.
Hunt, who was not on the best of terms with Igoe, were among those who took an important part in the proceedings. The only noticeable absence was County Clerk Robert M.
Dever, and word was received from him that he would be in the city today to take up the fight for the ordinance.

Cooperation Counsel Francis X.
Bach, chairman of the committee which has been conducting the campaign for the ordinance, was the first speaker. He explained exactly what the ordinance meant to the people of the city. He was followed by John J.
Hunt, chairman of the board of local improvements.

Chair for Brennan.
George E. Brennan, the Democratic committee chairman, was greeted with cheers which lasted for several minutes. Congressman Stanley H.
Kunz, who was not on the best of terms with Igoe, was the other prominent leader who was not far behind him in stirring up enthusiasm.

Mr. Brennan prefaced his speech by saying that the traction ordinance was not meant to be a nonpartisan message.

"Nevertheless, I cannot refrain from congratulating you upon the fact that it was offered to the people by a Democratic mayor," he said. "The Democratic party has rendered important and loyal service to the people of Chicago and Cook county in the past."

The Judicial Election.
"In 1911, when the ascendant Republican organization undertook to oust the people's courts by refusing to permit sitting judges who would not acknowledge the leaders of the organization to be their masters, this organization came to the rescue of the people. It nominated ten sitting Republican judges and rendered valiant aid in bringing about their reelection.

"This organization may be relied upon now again to expose the cause of the people by championing the traction ordinance and aiding in securing its approval at the polls next Tuesday.

"We all know that whenever the divisionary system of the human body becomes involved the machine does not function properly. So it is with the transportation facilities of a great city like Chicago. When corporations holding franchises fail to meet their obligations to the people, the city suffers immense loss in progress, population, and many other ways.

Appeal by Ormak.
Mr. Ormak, president of the county board, Congressman Sabath, City Clerk Kenna, and other leading Democrats yesterday joined in signing an appeal to the people of their race to support the ordinance. The appeal was printed in Dennis H. Harnett, leading Republican newspaper of the city.
Among other things, it said:

"The proposition on the ballot—
to let the traction ordinance be voted YES by all citizens in order to settle once and for all the question of transportation within the city, which is the most vital problem that affects the welfare of us all today. You insure the future growth of the city, you stabilize property values, communication is afforded between all sections of the city, better communication and more rapid transportation, with service at cost, and a management that must be high and efficient is assured."

A similar appeal to the Pollak-American in being drafted by the leaders of their race, headed by Congressman Kunz, and will be published in the state newspapers on Sunday.

WEST SIDE CROWDS CHEER MAYOR'S TRACTION SPEECH

Mayor William E. Dever addressing meeting of Twenty-fourth ward citizens, which was held last night in the Herl school at Lawndale avenue and Douglas boulevard. The hall, which is in the territory where Michael Rosenberg, sanitary district trustee, holds sway, was filled to capacity.

PUT TRACTION ISSUE UP TO STRAPHANGERS

This morning, as thousands of workers are fighting for seats on the elevated and surface lines, there will be thrust into their hands, to read as they away from their straps, cards which ask the question "Do you expect to get a seat on the car tonight?"

At noon, during the crush hour in the loop, those same cards will be slipped into the hands of the hurrying thousands by women who have volunteered to work for the passage of the traction ordinance.

As early as 7:30 this morning members of the committee of 4,500 volunteer woman workers were stationed at congested corners, elevated stations, and factories passing out the little cards that read:

"Do you expect to get a seat on a car tonight? You haven't a chance.
Vote 'Yes' on the traction ordinance."

The following meetings will be held today for a discussion of the traction ordinance:

COP SUSPENDED OVER CHARGE OF TRYING ROBBERY

Patrolman Frank Helmsing of the Grand Crossing station, drunk and in his uniform, is alleged to have turned highwayman early yesterday and attempted to stick up a citizen at 90th street and the Strand.

Helmsing's star was taken from him and last night Chief Collins suspended him pending trial.

Patrolman James Martin heard several shots fired while he walked his beat. He ran to the scene and as he came up Helmsing turned the gun on his brother patrolman, but the revolver was empty by that time. John Voldt, 3060 East 93d street, who said he was held up and clubbed by a policeman, later was unable to identify Helmsing.

BELIEVE SUSPECT MAY BE BROTHER OF RUSSELL SCOTT

Police last night were seeking with newness in the Russell Scott murder case in the belief that a check forger they trapped yesterday through the lure of romance is Scott's brother Robert, sought in connection with the murder of a druggist for more than a year.

The check forger gave his name as Charles Tennes, alias Ray Temple.
When Detective Sergeant Leo Carr went to the Elys hotel Wednesday to arrest Tennes he shot his way to freedom.

Yesterday Tennes phoned Mrs. Mary Smith, who lives at the Hayes, and asked her to meet him at the Randolph street station of the Illinois Central railroad. She did so, with Sergeant Carr and William Knowles.

THOMPSON AND HARRISON AGAIN HIT DEVER PLAN

Call Traction Ordinance
Leap in the Dark.

The fight being waged in certain quarters against passage next Tuesday of the traction ordinance was featured yesterday by statements from two of Chicago's ex-mayors. One of the statements was made by William Hale Thompson, now recuperating in health at Palm Beach, Fla.

Turning adoption of the Dever plan
as a "leap into the dark into a bottomless financial morass," Mr. Thompson asserted that to pass the measure means "the launching of a venture never before heard of under the guidance and control of an unknown, unnamed municipal railway board, with the price to taxpayers and car riders unreckoned and unreckonable."

Called It "Brazen Attempt."
Mr. Thompson termed the provisions for the control board "violence to the American principle of representative government."

"It is the most brazen of the many attempts, some successful, that corporation influences have made to induce legislative bodies and other duly elected representatives of the people to surrender and quitclaim their powers in behalf of the people and delegate them to appointive bodies not contemplated or specified by any law," he said.

That the traction control board, once created, would be beyond the control of the people was another argument used by ex-Mayor Thompson against the ordinance.

Term of Office Nine Years.
"The terms of the board members would be nine years," he continued,
"longer than the people of Illinois give to an elective legislative or executive official, and the members of the board would be beyond the power of impeachment."

Charles H. Harrison was the other ex-mayor to argue against the ordinance.
He stated that he was indirectly offered the position of the companies' representative in settling the traction question shortly after he retired from office. Mr. Harrison declared that should a plan recently suggested by him be adopted in lieu of the Dever plan "citizens would have genuine rapid transit, outlying sections would grow like mushrooms, reality would trouble in value, and Chicago would be a city instead of a group of neighborhood centers."

GOLDEN VOICE OF JEAN DE RESZKE STILLED FOREVER

World Famous Tenor Dies in Nice, France.

NICE, France, April 3.—(By the Associated Press.)—Jean de Reszke, considered one of the greatest tenors in the annals of the operatic stage, died at his villa here tonight after a short illness. Death was due to complications following an attack of influenza. Although in his seventy-fifth year, de Reszke maintained all his varied interests in life, dividing his time between his home in Paris, his villa in Nice, and an estate which, like Ignace Jan Paderewski, he purchased at Skrzydlon, Poland.

A man of wide intellectual culture, speaking several languages, he at the same time was fond of sports, notably tennis and horseback-riding.

Of a musical family. His father, Edouard, and his sister, Josephine, Baroness Kronsberg, both had distinguished careers on the operatic stage. Jean made his first appearance in Drury Lane, London, at the age of 23, and the following year made his debut in Paris, after which he toured the principal countries of Europe.

He reached the zenith of his career in the Metropolitan Opera house in New York. Music critics considered that while equaling the best Italian tenors in purely vocal effects, he surpassed them as an interpretative artist. After retiring from the stage de Reszke devoted himself to teaching, and pupils from all over the world, particularly the United States, were tutored by him.

AN APPRECIATION

BY EDWARD MOORE.

It is something to be able to count Jean de Reszke in one's first operatic memories. That lot is mine. Away back in the 1893-94 season I had my first experience as a member of an Auditorium audience. It was a Saturday matinee, and the opera was Gounod's "Roméo and Juliet." Jean de Reszke was the Romeo, Emma Eames the Juliet, Edouard de Reszke the Friar Laurence, Pol Plancon the Duke of Verona, Luigi Mancinelli the conductor. And though the remark is an appalling commonplace, I can only add to the chorus that there were giants in those days.

For to Jean de Reszke more than any other male singer felt the task of upholding the operatic glamour for his sex that was so plentifully effulgent from such women as Melsa, Eames, and Calvé. Brilliantly he did it. When one looks back at the opera of the '90s, the one tenor who comes to mind is De Reszke.

Towered Above All.

As a popular idol he succeeded to the acclaim that used to surround Tamagno and Italo Campanini, and when he retired from active operatic service his mantle fell on the shoulders of Caruso. As a romantic singer, however, he towered above them all. Six feet tall, erect, handsome, vigorous, taking as much pride in maintaining an efficient physique as an efficient voice, with the manners of high breeding and culture, he was a figure to win the eyes and the affections of his audience from his first entrance.

Those who went to the Auditorium in that decade will remember what a wide variety of parts he used to sing and how splendidly he used to deliver them. He covered practically the entire range of romantic and heroic operas. "Roméo and Juliet," "Faust," "The Huguenots," "Lohengrin," "Tristan and Isolde"—works as diverse as

Judge Voids $25,000 Verdict Given to Mrs. Dennistoun

BY DON SKENE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

(Overland: 1935: By The Chicago Tribune.)

LONDON, April 3.—(Listed: Col. Ian "Tiger Boy" Dennistoun crushed his

"Money Girl" former wife's savage legal struggle for money today through Justice McCardie's final decision ending the famous case, Justice McCardie ruled that Mrs. Dorothy Muriel Dennistoun loses the $25,000 ($125,000) damages awarded by the jury. The costs of the case, estimated at $24,000 ($170,000) are apportioned on a fifty-fifty basis between Mrs. Dennistoun and Col. Dennistoun.

This reversal of the jury's verdict for damages and the assessment of a half the staggering costs forces Mrs. Dennistoun into hopeless bankruptcy after her long battle to recover loans and the divorce settlement from the colonel who formerly was a member of the crack Grenadier guards.

Women Principals Present.

Mrs. Dennistoun and the Countess Carnarvon, the present wife of the colonel, the two women principals, who have entered the most horrible ordeal for the love of the colonel, sat a few feet apart. The temperaments which they heretofore showed in the trial were completely reversed. Mrs. Dennistoun dropped her grim mask and whispered animatedly with friends throughout the judgment. Lady Carnarvon, unaccompanied by her husband, gazed straight ahead, motionless.

There were in his repertoire and counted among his successes.

First to Get Big Fees.

A great artist, he was likewise a shrewd one. He was one of the first male singers to be able to bargain for large fees. Before his retirement he was able to command $12,000 a performance, an unheard-of sum in those days.

The same shrewdness made him keep remote from the public in all but his professional capacity. To the end of his operatic career he was always something of a mystery. His retirement came at a time when to all outward seeming he was at the top of his powers. It was entirely voluntary, and he explained on the ground that he resolutely refused to let his public witness his decline.

DR. SHIRESON IS EXONERATED OF PLOT CHARGES

After hearing charges that Dr. Henry J. Shireson, plastic surgeon with offices in the State-Lake building, was the victim of a conspiracy waged by three doctors and a lawyer, Superior Judge Michael J. McKinley yesterday exonerated Shireson on a charge of operating a confidence game.

Proceedings before Judge McKinley were to quash an extradition writ issued for Dr. Shireson to require him to appear in Calhoun county, Mich., for supposed offense on June 16, 1934. A dozen witnesses swore Dr. Shireson had treated them in Chicago on that day.

The surgeon's attorney, Patrick H. O'Donnell, named as the four members of the conspiracy Dr. Franklin O. Carter, an advertising eye doctor; Dr. Paul Fernio, alias Fernel, a doctor whose license has been revoked; Dr. Morris Flahelien, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, and Attorney Walter E. Boerger, counsel for Fernel.

Englewood Business Puts O. K. on Transit Plan

The Central Business Men's association, Englewood, yesterday addressed resolutions to Mayor Dever commending the traction ordinance. The resolutions assert that the members of the association have informed themselves as thoroughly as possible on the gist of the ordinance, and that it is believed that it provides for a comprehensive municipal transportation system.

1,000 CHICAGO PUPILS TO GO TO MEET CAL

A new departure in education was inaugurated in the public school system here yesterday. One thousand students in the high schools interested in civics will make a trip to Washington during their spring vacation to meet President Coolidge and observe the government.

Special trains will carry the group and teachers, who will depart April 24 and return April 30. Arrangements have been made with the Baltimore and Ohio and Pennsylvania railroads to provide five special trains and offer reduced rates for the trip.

The itinerary includes Washington, Gettysburg, Harper's Ferry, and Annapolis. Bowen, Odumet, Hyde Park, Englewood, Tilden, Crane, Marshall, Lake View, Senn, Lane, Schurz, Harrison, and Lindholm high schools will be represented in the educational expedition.

DR. J. A. WHEELER, G. O. P. LEADER IN SPRINGFIELD, DIES

Springfield, Ill., April 3.—Dr. John A. Wheeler, long identified with Republican politics in Springfield and Illinois, died tonight at Lincoln, where he was the managing director of the Lincoln State School and Colony for Feeble Minded.

Dr. Wheeler was elected to the legislature and was a member of the steering committee in the deadlock of 1904, when Charles B. Deneen was nominated for governor. In 1914 he was elected sheriff of Sangamon county and took a strong stand against the saloons, which were running wide open at that time. He frequently spoke before churchmen and explained to them that his hostility to liquor was due to the fact that it had killed his brother.

He returned to the senate in 1918 and became Gov. Small's chief lieutenant in the upper house. He was defeated for reelection and then was appointed to the position at Lincoln. He was a high Mason and belonged to numerous other fraternal orders.

Alleged Plotters Win by Legal Technicality.

Washington, D. C., April 3.—The government suffered a reverse today in its criminal prosecutions growing out of the oil scandal.

Indictments returned last June against the central figures in the famous senate investigation—Albert B. Fall, former interior secretary, and Harry F. Sinclair, Edward L. Doheny, and his son, Edward—were dismissed in the District of Columbia Supreme court because of the pressure in the grand jury room of Oilfield E. Hogan, an assistant to the attorney general.

Government Will Appeal.

Through District Attorney Gordon, special government counsel in the oil cases announced that an appeal would be taken. Should the government finally lose in this light the way still would be open for presentation to a new grand jury of the conspiracy charges in connection with the lease of Teapot Dome naval reserve to Sinclair and of California oil reserves to Doheny.

Whether a new grand jury could consider the bribery charges against Fall and the Dohenys is not so clear. Counsel for Sinclair contends that the three year statute of limitation will become effective next Tuesday, but government counsel is not convinced that the special act of congress in 1932 extending the limitation to six years in certain cases would not be applicable in this instance.

Origin of Bribery Charge.

The bribery charge grew out of the delivery to Fall here while he was interior secretary of $100,000 in cash. The fund was advanced by the elder Doheny and brought here from New York by his son in the now celebrated "Little Black Hatchet." Fall gave his personal note for that amount, and Doheny, in disclosing that he had advanced the money, said it was a loan to a friend and had nothing to do with the lease.

German Republicans Unite on Dr. Marx for the Presidency

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

BERLIN, April 3.—Dr. Wilhelm Marx, leader of the center (Catholic) party of Germany, is the official candidate of the left coalition for the presidency in the second elections on April 12.

This announcement was made officially this evening after the last condition for socialist support had been fulfilled by the election of the socialist, Otto Braun, as minister president of Prussia. Immediately after the election representatives of the democratic socialists and communists met at the Reichstag to put their official seal of approval on the Catholic candidate.

A last minute effort by Chancellor Hans Luther to get all parties, except the socialists and communists, to unite behind Acting Premier Walter Simons failed. Dr. Luther's action was taken at the request of the Bavarian People's party, who declared there was nothing for them to do but stay home if Dr. Marx became the candidate of the left parties and Dr. Karl Jarres is chosen to lead the monarchist-industrialist bloc.

The Catholic of Bavaria will not vote for Dr. Jarres who is a militant protestant.

Coy are wholly apart from the civil suits which have been brought by the government in Wyoming and California for the recovery of the Teapot Dome and California naval reserves.

Nor is there involved in today's decision the contempt indictment returned against Sinclair because of his refusal to answer certain questions put to him by the senate oil committee.

A demurrer to that indictment has been filed and is pending in the District of Columbia Supreme court.

In dismissing the criminal indictments, Chief Justice McCoyle upheld the contention of defense counsel that the senate resolution taking prosecution of the oil cases from the department of justice and placing them in the hands of special counsel removed the right of the attorney general or any of his assistants to appear before the grand jury.

ROB KANKAKEE STORE; ESCAPE IN POLICE CAR

Chicago police last night were notified that two robbers held up a jewelry store yesterday in Kankakee, stole jewelry worth $3,500, and escaped in a police auto.

The store is within a block of Kankakee police headquarters. The robbers used a clerk, B. P. Kruse, with wire and then searched the store for the more valuable gems. Then they raced out to their waiting car, but had trouble starting it.

They stopped the first passing car, carrying Detective Louis Hall and his son, Elmer, disarmed Hall, and drove away, civilian motorists in pursuit.

SCHOOL BOARD OPENS QUIZ ON PRICE COMBINE

Investigation by a special committee of charges of bribery to obtain school supply business made by Trustee J. Lewis Coath.

At the same time this committee also asked that an investigation be made of prices paid by the board for certain supplies which it is alleged are exorbitant.

Several trustees were in favor of calling upon State's Attorney Crowe to investigate the charges, but William K. Fellows, chairman, ruled that the committee was without power to make such a recommendation. It was then stipulated that the special committee be appointed by the president of the board, call upon the state's attorney if necessary.

Mr. Coath reiterated his charge before the committee that a salesman named Jack Mitchell had offered him $1,500 for approval of an order for pastel crayons and that Mitchell had said there was $1,500 in it for other members of the school system.

Force Jeweler and Clerk to Basement; Get $15,000

Two masked men yesterday forced M. J. Harris and his clerk into the basement of the Harris Jewelry store at 1442 West Chicago avenue, then despoiled the shop of almost all its stock, valued at $15,000.

Child Picks Daddy Against Mother, and Judge Agrees

Pleading her father's case against her mother, with herself the prize in dispute, Nellie Genis, 8, told Circuit Judge George Fred Rush that her father, Justin Genis, 5533 Gunnison avenue, always prepared her meals, got her ready for school, and granted her every wish. "I want to stay with daddy," the child said, spurning the arms of her mother, who won a divorce in 1919. Judge Rush granted Nellie's plea, and she will stay with her father.

CLAN EX-CHIEF INDICTED ON 5 CHARGES BY GIRL

Indianapolis, Ind., April 3.—Miss Madge Oberholzer, 28, Indianapolis, alleged in county grand jury indictments returned today to have been assaulted by D. C. Stephenson, formerly grand dragon of the Ku Klux Klan in Indiana, was unconscious tonight.

A blood transfusion was made, but results will not be known for from twenty-four to forty-eight hours, according to Dr. John Kingsbury, her physician. Dr. Kingsbury held out little hope for the girl, who took poison after the alleged attack.

Stephenson, known throughout the country as the "old man" in connection with Klan activities, was indicted today on five counts—assault and battery with intent to rape, malicious mayhem, kidnapping, and conspiracy to commit a felony. Bond was placed at $25,000, which was provided. He will be arraigned next Monday.

Mr. Oberholzer, father of the girl,

SHEPHERD BAIL PLEA REJECTED BY TWO JUDGES

Gunnill, Brothers Both
Refuse Him Hearing.

Judge William V. Brothers yesterday rejected the third plea of William D. Gunnill to be released on bail while awaiting trial on the charge of killing William McClellan for $1,000,000 with a cyanide poison which C. C. Falman confessed to furnishing.

"I must consider that Chief Justice John Hopkins has given two hearings to the defendant on this matter," Judge Brothers said. "For this court now to hear the petition would not be in accord with the rules, and might be considered a discourtesy to Judge Hopkins."

Attorneys William Scott Stewart and W. W. O'Brien, defending Shepherd, did not announce their next move. They plan to file a petition to the Supreme court which convenes Tuesday or a writ of habeas corpus in Cook county was considered.

Remains Inquest Wednesday.

Next Wednesday the inquest into the death of McClellan will be resumed. Counsel Oscar Wolf announced, and that may interfere with the defense program.

Attorney Stewart and O'Brien previously had called upon Judge William V. Brothers to ascertain whether he would hear their bail motion. Judge Gunnill wouldn't. Then they went to Judge Brothers and after giving consideration to the request, he too disallowed the present Shepherd's hopes.

When the motion was called up before Judge Brothers in the morning for a few minutes, the court said that he had discovered that Shepherd was not in the courtroom. The court said for him. It was necessary to bring him in a patrol wagon, as Judge Brothers' court is in the county building and Shepherd was in the county jail.

First Outside Air.

It was Shepherd's first breath of outside air in two weeks. Because the hearing was delayed until afternoon, Shepherd was permitted to remain out of jail in custody of Bailiff John Zachmich and had dinner at the Judge's hotel.

The morning session had developed a reversal of the exchange of sarcasm between State's Attorney Crowe and the defense lawyers. Mr. Crowe accused them of trying to make a hippopotamus of the proceedings and said if they were permitted to make the records of the forty-eight judges seeking bail, the situation would be absurd.

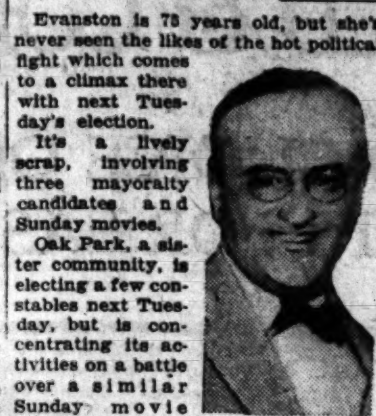

"All they want to do is to sling a little mud," he exclaimed.

Smart Explains Action.

Attorney Stewart suggested to the court that he had offered to call Health Commissioner Herman N. Bingham and others as witnesses before Judge Hopkins, but was not permitted to do so. He said that was one of the reasons he was appealing to Judge Brothers. The court said he would confer with Chief Justice Hopkins during the noon recess.

When all had assembled in the afternoon Judge Brothers asked if either side wished to say anything. The judge then read his decision, which said, among other things, that were he to grant the motion it would amount to a review of the action of Judge Hopkins. There was no necessity of this, he said, unless new evidence were to be adduced.

Evanston and Oak Park Divided by Sunday Movies

MAYOR H. P. PEARSON.

Evanston is 75 years old, but she's never seen the likes of the hot political fight which comes to a climax with next Tuesday's election.

It's a lively scrap involving three mayoral candidates and Sunday movies.

Oak Park, a sister community, is electing a few constables next Tuesday, but is concentrating its activities on a battle over a similar Sunday movie proposition.

University professors and barbers; clergymen and the members of the movie theaters; leaders in the woman's clubs and girls who march the co-ed's boys; little children and old, old ladies; virtually every one of the 50,000 residents are taking polls these last few days of the Evanston campaign.

The movie proposition, a proposed ballot to permit seven day movies in Evanston, where only six day movies have been allowed, is, technically, a consideration independent of the mayoral contest. Actually, it is the big plank in the platform of each of the trio of candidates.

The Candidates' Views.

Harry P. Pearson, Evanston's mayor for the last ten years, is up for reelection. He is definitely opposed to the Sabbath cinema. Charles H. Bartlett, former city treasurer, and unofficially reported as the mayor's strongest election rival, is somewhat in the middle. He goes to movies on Sunday, but in another town; and he doesn't want them in Evanston; but he wants the people to decide.

James Huxtable, candidate number three, comes out enthusiastically for the seven day motion picture theater.

Opposition to the Sunday movie, Mayor Pearson points out, is not based on a Sabbathian point of view; nor is it a blue law by-product. Opposition, he claims, is psychological.

Pears Movielet Sunday.

If Sunday movies are permitted, he argues, the lure of the big crowds from Howard avenue, Chicago, and from other adjacent communities will induce movie magnates to build mammoth picture houses. Then, as the next step in this chain, come the thousands of Sunday movie fans who, after or before the show parade, the streets, seeking other amusement.

And presently, Mayor Pearson declares, "our Sunday will be a veritable carnival day, not serving Evanston, but disturbing Evanston. A wide open town means simply steps to billiard and pool halls, to Sunday cabarets, to dance halls and to the immoralities which we must face."

Mr. Bartlett believes this movie question is a bit like a new street car line in the neighborhood.

"Every man wants to have the car run near his home, but not on his street," he said. "Evanston folks, many of them, want to go to the movies on Sunday; but they don't want the movies to come to them. They prefer to go across the boundary line to Howard avenue."

"Personally I am for movies on Sunday, and I go to them. But I do not believe they would be a good thing for Evanston. But I do think the people, not the mayor, should be the judge of that. That's why I am glad we are having a referendum on the question."

Mr. Huxtable is making his campaign on "rights for the west siders," the newer increment in Evanston's life, and in the main the folk who have been pushing the petition for Sunday movies.

Some of His Reasons.

Among the reasons which Mr. Huxtable cites are: Keep the young folk at home on Sunday; do away with the double carfare to Chicago for residents who now travel to Chicago for Sunday recreation; the presence of Sunday movies in Lake Forest and Highland Park; the present censorship of the movies, insuring good pictures on Sunday as well as on week days; and the universal necessity of recreation.

John F. Hahn, city clerk, is chairman of the Evanston civic committee, which is campaigning against the seventh day theaters on a platform of ten "noes." The essence of the opposition is that the movies are but an entering wedge for commercial spots of all kinds, and will be destructive to Evanston's civic ideals. "Now famous from coast to coast."

Chicago's Cradle of Liberty.

The proponents of the plan have the Progressive Civic league as their fighting organization. C. S. Breckenridge, secretary of the Downtown Evanston Business association, which has been active in support of the Sunday movies, is one of the organizers of the league.

"It is a bit ironic," Mr. Breckenridge said yesterday, "that Evanston, the birthplace of the Minute Men of the Constitution, should seem so loath to give some of its citizens their constitutional rights. I mean the way various organizations tried to persuade people not to sign the petition enabling us to have the referendum."

Out Oak Park way the move for Sunday movies has divided at least one household.

Miss Harriett Krauth of the United Christian Young People's Society is actively campaigning against Sunday movies. Her father, Harry E. Krauth of the Progressive Civic league, is equally active in his campaign for the Sabbath motion picture.

In the case of the Metropolitan, it is charged, two years' complete insurance and service were offered motorists for $39.50. Among other things, the corporation promised the following for the comparatively small fee:

Free legal service, including representation in the municipal, county, and state courts, either as plaintiff or defendant in all civil and criminal automobile cases.

"Power of attorney" to sign surety bonds following arrest for automobile infractions.

Day and night towing service and mechanical inspection and advice.

Automobile detective service in the finding of lost or stolen automobiles.

Discounts of 1 cent a gallon on gasoline and 5 cents a gallon on oil on purchases made at official Metropolitan stations.

Buyers' service, giving less than a wholesale price on automobile supplies.

4 INDICTED AS SWINDLERS IN AUTO SERVICE

Got $1,200,000 from 35,000, Is Charge.

Bitter charges of a government official "fix" that failed to stay fixed were expected last night as a development of the indictment of four officers and employees of the Metropolitan Automobile Service corporation.

The indictments set forth that Samuel D. Kennedy and his associates in the corporation have trimmed $5,000 out of $1,200,000 since Sept. 1, 1923. The bills were returned yesterday before Federal Judge Cliffe, who issued bench warrants for the arrest of the defendants.

Although Kennedy was not taken into custody last night, he made known that he would launch a counter offensive, naming at least one former high government official, said to have been influential while he continued in office in blocking prosecution of Kennedy.

Offer of Control Reported.

According to stories which have reached the office of District Attorney Edwin A. Olson, it is said, Kennedy once offered a federal official a majority interest in his corporation, providing the federal investigation could be halted.

The partnership never was effected, according to reports, but Kennedy was said to be satisfied with the status of the investigation against his enterprise until six weeks ago, when he learned that a new quip was on. According to information given out at the federal building, Kennedy then went to Washington and voiced his indignation at the manner in which he considered he was being "pushed around."

"Exposed" Due to Precedent Trial.

There was said to be some question as to just what method Kennedy would use in unburdening himself of his narrative of fixing in high places, but it was indicated that his "expose" would be forthcoming before his trial.

The government's present case has been prepared by First Assistant District Attorney William F. Waugh in cooperation with the American Automobile association, which for two years has been waging a war on alleged fake automobile insurance companies which promise much for little money.

Two Years for $39.50.

In the case of the Metropolitan, it is charged, two years' complete insurance and service were offered motorists for $39.50. Among other things, the corporation promised the following for the comparatively small fee:

GRAND JURY FOR MARCH BELIEVED RECORD BREAKER

The March grand jury in its report yesterday to Chief Justice Jacob Hopkins showed that it had considered 722 cases. This is believed to be a record. They voted 466 true bills and 255 no bills. Fourteen cases were passed to the April jury.

This same jury voted an indictment of murder against William D. Shepherd and Charles C. Falman. The jurors commended Assistant State's Attorney Leroy Fairbanks, in charge of the grand jury, and his attaches for their efficient work.

"During our month's sessions we found the police department has done some efficient work," said William C. Rapp, foreman of the jury.

Indicted on Mail Charge.

The specific charges against the members of the jury included six counts in which the defendants are cited for using the mails in a scheme to defraud.

Besides Kennedy, those indicted are: Carl E. Wolf, East End apartments, 634 street and Hyde Park boulevard; secretary of the organization.

Fred L. Davis, 3552 Argyle street.

Harry Lapin, said to be in Los Angeles.

Kennedy, who lives at 5490 Cornell avenue, also is under indictment in the state courts in connection with the operation of several alleged fraudulent "suit clubs."

Davis and Lapin, it is alleged, are charged with the responsibility of training high pressure salesmen, whose so-called dynamic sales power brought in the membership.

Although contracts made a point of the fact that the Metropolitan was not an insurance proposition, it is said that most of the alleged victims were subtly led to believe they were protected from about everything that could happen to an automobile owner.

Takes Strange Girl Riding;
Robbed, Beaten by Thugs

Warren Walters, 7820 West 39th place, drove toward Lyons early yesterday with a girl he had met in Stickney. At a lonely spot a gang of thugs halted Walters' car, beat him unconscious, and robbed him. Passerby found Walters in the gutter. The girl had disappeared.

Two Years for $39.50.

In the case of the Metropolitan, it is charged, two years' complete insurance and service were offered motorists for $39.50. Among other things, the corporation promised the following for the comparatively small fee:

Free legal service, including representation in the municipal, county, and state courts, either as plaintiff or defendant in all civil and criminal automobile cases.

JURY DEADLOCK IS RESPITE FOR SUPER-OUTLAW

Chapman Calm as Hours Drag Slowly By.

Hartford, Conn., April 3.—The jury trying Gerald Chapman for the murder of a New Britain policeman on Oct. 12 last was ordered locked up for the night at 10:40 o'clock tonight.

Court was adjourned until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, when the jurors will return to the courthouse from their quarters at a local hotel and again resume deliberations.

Chapman was taken back to the state prison at Wethersfield for the night. He had spent the more than nine hours during which the jury deliberated in the basement of the courthouse, surrounded by guards.

Chapman's Face a Mask.

As the hours dragged on with no sign coming from the jury room, Chapman, who had been calmly seated, smoking, most of the day, began walking up and down. Although his face never lost its gambler's mask, his nervous strides betrayed his perturbation.

Instructed by the court that it could, under the law, return one of four verdicts—guilty of murder in the first degree, second degree, manslaughter or acquittal—the jury, before it had deliberated four hours, had returned to court twice for additional instructions.

In both instances their requests indicated that they were going over with minute care the alibi testimony introduced by a number of defense witnesses. For the first request was for a time table of trains running out of Springfield, Mass., for New York, on Saturday, Oct. 11, 1924. The second request was that the testimony of two Meriden witnesses for the prosecution be read to them.

Fervid Arguments to Jury.

Up to 1 o'clock, when the notorious prisoner's case was given to the jury, it was a day of vivid oratory in which Chief Defense Counsel Frederick J. Groehl and State Attorney Hugh M. Alcorn made their final pleas to the jury: the one for acquittal and the other for a first degree murder conviction.

WINDSOR BOOMS AS 5 CENT BEER LURES DETROIT

Americans Migrate
Across River.

Detroit, Mich., April 3.—[Special.]—Windsor, the Canadian town across from Detroit, started a real estate and business boom with a rush today, as soon as it became known that the 4.4 per cent beer bill had passed the Ontario legislature in committee.

The first ferries across the Detroit river bore a swarm of Americans with either an eye to business or their private thirst. Some wished to rent cottages along the Detroit river or the Clair flats; some were in search of Canadian residences, and not a few were considering the possibility of acquiring a hotel or restaurant.

Drawn by Nickel Beer.

They saw riches before them, for the hot weather is coming on and the "trade" of Detroit is eager to enjoy its malt beverage on the Canadian side at the price of 5 cents a glass instead of 10.

Windsor real estate offices were unusually busy. Real estate men were forced to put up the "sold out" sign when confronted by cottage seekers. Most summer homes along the river already have been rented at prices ranging from $300 to $500 for the summer season. A few subleases are offered, but the price for these is at least 30 per cent higher than the original.

Officials of the British-American Brewing company and the Walkerville Brewing company announced that the beer is being manufactured. As soon as the legislation goes into effect it will go on the market.

Causes Windsor Concern.

The activity of the Americans is causing no little concern in Windsor. Malcolm G. Campbell of the border cities branch of the Ontario Moderation league said:

"The greatest possible effort will be put forth to see that the border cities do not get a black eye from the sale of beer. We believe that the traffic will be handled satisfactorily to every one concerned."

CRASH LANDS A SCHOOL DRIVER IN BRIDEWELL

Sentenced to 60 Days; Fined $50.

The maximum penalty for driving while intoxicated was imposed yesterday upon Joseph L. McCarthy, 30 years old, of 111 North Maplewood avenue, driver of a motor bus used in taking crippled children to and from school.

McCarthy, employed by the Willett Educational company, which subsists in the board of education, crashed the bus into three automobiles parked in Desplaines street near Jackson boulevard. No children were in the bus at the time.

Sends Him to Bridewell. "I wish I could punish you more severely," said Judge McCarthy as he sentenced Anderson to sixty days in the Bridewell and fine him $50 and costs. "A man entrusted with the safety and care of a group of unfortunate crippled children, who deliberately endangers their lives, deserves no mercy."

Anderson denied he had had any liquor until he had taken the last child home from school and was going to his garage.

HANDS OF DEATH

The hands of the clock indicate the number of deaths by autos, guns, and moonshine in Cook county since Jan. 1. Yesterday was the ninety-second day of 1925.

to the year's motor death toll in Cook county, raising the total to 159. Edward J. Michel, a colored man of 38, living at 3301 Giles avenue, drove his truck into an automobile parked beneath a viaduct on the south side and was killed.

Crushed Between Street Cars. The Rev. M. Walker, 436 East 23rd street, was killed when crushed between street cars at Wabash avenue and 23rd street. Two other men were severely injured in the same accident. C. J. Doyle, 55 years old, was killed, and his son, James, was severely injured when the automobile in which they were returning from Alpena, Mich., was struck at Holland, Mich., by an interurban car.

LIST OF AUTOS' INJURY VICTIMS NUMBERS 2,472

And That Total Is Only for Year Thus Far.

Parallel to the column of figures in the office of St. Mayer, secretary of the police department, which tell the story of Chicago's 124 killings from automobiles this year, is a column which, in the tragedy it reveals, ranks second in importance only to the death list.

These figures, which are inscribed in small type in order that they may be crowded into the allotted spaces, reveal the number of Chicagoans who from day to day are injured by auto drivers. The blotter shows that since Jan. 1 2,472 Chicagoans have been so severely injured by autos and trucks as to require the care of physicians. This does not include persons fatally hurt. Statistics are on record at the office of Chief Weidling of the county police, showing upward of fifty persons injured in speed accidents in Cook county outside the city limits.

An Average of $34 a Month. Divided into months, the figures show a total of 774 nonfatal auto accidents for January, 764 for February, and 934 for March, or an average of $34 a month so far this year.

"And statistics, no matter how dry, tell their individual story when we pry into them a bit," declared Raymond Glass, senior clerk, who for thirteen years has watched the steady lengthening of the auto death and injury columns in Secretary Mayer's office.

"It is the same story every spring and summer," Mr. Glass said, "and with the cars increasing in number year by year, the number of killed and injured continues to mount."

"Our records show that during 1924 a total of 11,267 persons were listed as being nonfatally injured by autos. This was an average of 934 a month."

"So with a monthly average of 934 already established for this year, it is apparent that unless something is done to slow down the reckless speeders this year's injury toll will exceed that of 1924."

Mr. Glass pointed out that most people completely overlook the fact that for every person killed outright by speeders almost twenty others are hurt severely enough to require medical aid. "In wartime we lay great stress upon the number injured but not killed outright by enemy bullets, but little is ever said or thought about the poor fellow whose leg or arm is crushed, or who receives permanent internal injuries or a fractured skull, at the hands of a speeding motorist."

Mr. Glass said his records reveal a startling number of little children injured for life by vicious or thoughtless auto drivers.

POSTPONES DECISION IN EXTORTION. Judge Joseph L. McCarthy yesterday reserved decision until April 9 in the case of William Faine, investigator for the committee of 35 men, charged with extortion. Mrs. Elizabeth Ward, 1749 Warren avenue, alleged that Faine extorted $40 from her to save her from a charge of conducting a disorderly house.

The foreign minister demands that Poland take adequate measures to punish those connected with the crime.

DIVORCEE FOUND TIED AND GAGGED IN MYSTERY FIRE

Louisville, Ky., April 2.—Miss Florence Lorenz, 21 year old divorcee, today was found bound and gagged in the offices of the Schlitz Mercantile company, where she was employed. Firemen, summoned to investigate the source of smoke issuing from the offices, found her unconscious from a blow on the head. Oil had been spilled on the floor.

Miss Lorenz was revived at a hospital and gave two versions of her plight, one that "everything went black" as she was showing three men some bottles, the other that one man, who previously had been in the office, returned and attacked her. She was not seriously hurt.

Salvationist Band Players Charm Elmer

Music Dominates in Many Good Programs.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

An extremely interesting night, but peculiarly difficult to write about due to the unusually fine quality of the program and certain complexities.

The musical mood of the evening was established by the Seven Musical Salvationists of the Salvation Army Staff band, evidently the brass section of the band, from WLS, 745. They were first heard in "Lost Chord," followed by four familiar numbers. But the treatment in each case was unusual. Each composition was rearranged, heightened, and given almost symphonic treatment, and an unusually slow tempo was used. The effect was one of great emotional beauty and dignity.

A quick turn slightly higher on the dial to W-G-N, and the familiar tones of Grieg's charming piano concerto in A minor were recognized. It was being played by the Drake concert ensemble, with Leon Benditsky as the soloist. Unfortunately, only the first movement was played. This same first movement will be played by the Orpheus orchestra with Dean Remick as the soloist on the WEED 5 o'clock twilight musical Sunday afternoon.

Some guessing was indulged in at 8:30 when at KDKA, Pittsburgh, a "mixed quartet sang 'Massa Dear' (Dvorak). This finally was recognized as an arrangement from one of the airs in Dvorak's New World Symphony.

Back to W-G-N, hearing the De Koven quartet of women singing that familiar "Serenade" (Schubert)—to me it is as sad as a funeral, although it is a love song. Later while Hazel McBroom was singing a composition announced as her own, I noticed the piano accompaniment resembled something familiar. Finally a mixed up announcement identified it as Miss Broome's song arrangement of MacDowell's "To a Water Lily."

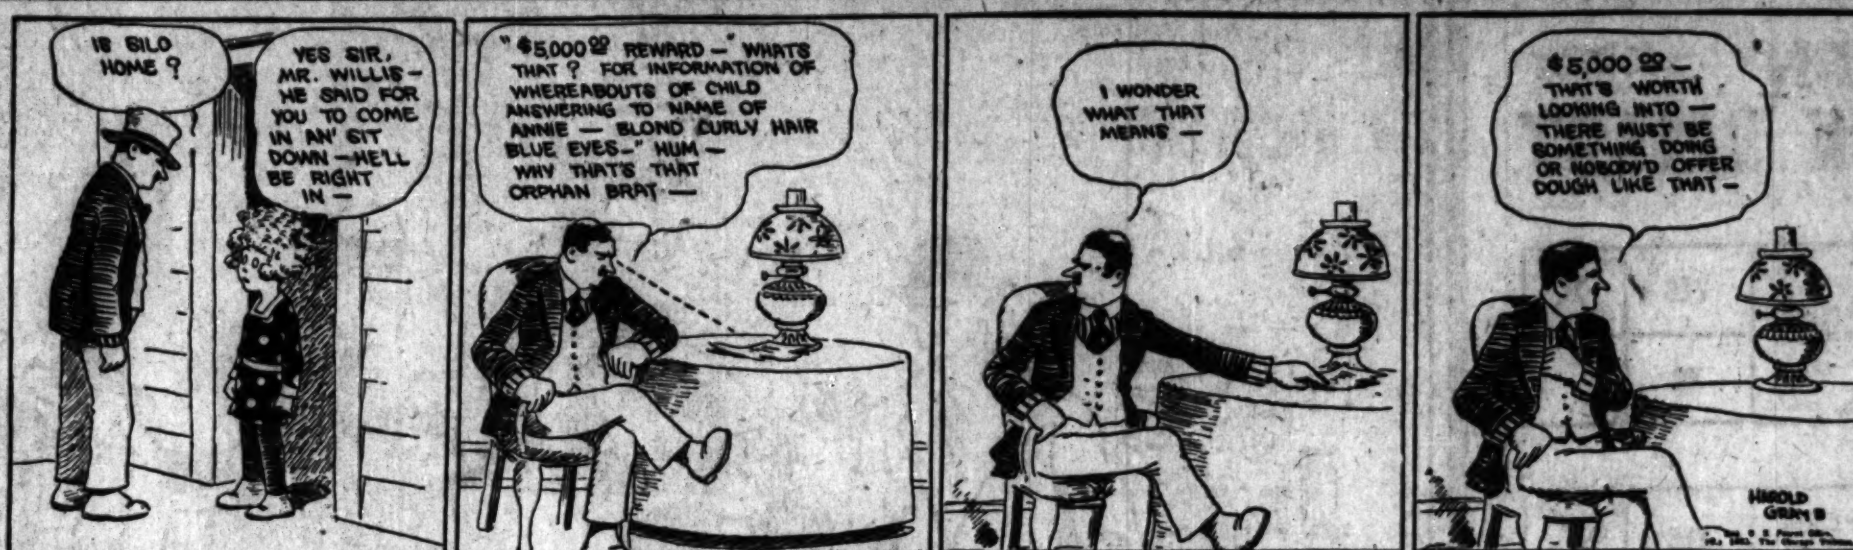

Something new, with an interesting announcement. Henry Furmont Ennes, composer and pianist, gave the first of a series of illustrated music lectures at WEED at 8. Last night's talk was on "The Music of the American Indian." Briefly, Mr. Ennes is an enthusiastic believer in the possibilities of Indian musical expression—he refuses to call it music—and he believes that the white man later will utilize their rhythmic and tonal characteristics. At the close he introduced the Chicago Orpheus Choral society, which sang his own "Indian type and Indian idiom" composition, "Behold the Gods of Destruction"—the same work which aroused this listener to words of approval when heard from WMAQ last Friday night.

DECREE TO PAY MILLION ISSUED AGAINST BURTON

Judge Denis E. Sullivan yesterday signed a decree ordering F. A. Burton, coal operator, to surrender property, securities, and money totaling more than $1,000,000 to James W. McElvain and Mrs. Clara Crozier. Burton, it was charged, obtained the property by threats and blackmail. He was granted the right to appeal, and furnished a $750,000 appeal bond.

The decree, as presented by counsel for McElvain and Mrs. Crozier, included charges of conspiracy against Mackey Hayne, former state's attorney and Burton's legal adviser in the matter, but Judge Sullivan struck them out. Hayne was not a defendant and no finding need be against him, Judge Sullivan said.

MAYCALL YANKEE IN WEIRD LONDON DEATH MYSTERY

LONDON, April 3.—[By the Associated Press.]—An unnamed American sportsman and a London financier, police said today, probably will be called as witnesses at tomorrow's inquest over the bodies of Granville Cooke and Selwyn Foster, whose strange deaths amidst bones, skulls and poison in a gloomy old Bloomsbury mansion have baffled Scotland Yard crime experts. It was hinted that sensational disclosures might be made at the inquest.

Police continue in possession of the old house and its grounds and are searching for further explanations of the mysterious life that Cooke, an inventor and poet, and his young companion, son of a wealthy family, led there.

Two professional dancers, Stella Clemence and Minnie Cordero, who had negotiated with Cooke to rent a part of the Bloomsbury house where the mysterious deaths occurred, were closeted several hours with police this morning.

One told detectives she had taken the rooms and redecorated them; then, "because of loneliness," she decided to give up the lease. She gave an account of Cooke's movements during recent months.

Police kept a close guard around the entire establishment.

KIRSCHBAUM CLOTHES—Lower the Cost of Dressing Well

Virgin wool fabrics—first!

THERE'S an important reason for the use of virgin wool fabrics in Kirschbaum Clothes. They have more life and lustre—they look rich and fresh—they give better and longer service than ordinary wool, which so frequently is made from old cloth or reworked wool.

Virgin wool fabrics make a fine foundation for the elegant style and skillful tailoring applied by the Kirschbaum craftsmen. That's why these clothes are so thoroughly satisfactory—why they lower the cost of dressing well.

ALCOHOL DEATHS INCREASE 400% UNDER DRY LAW

Coroner's Books Show 166 Toll in 1924.

Comparison of the number of deaths caused by alcoholism in the year before prohibition and with the year 1924, as given yesterday by Coroner Oscar Wolf, indicates that the death rate has increased more than 400 per cent.

In the year ending June 30, 1913, there were 10 deaths from alcoholism. In the year ending June 30, 1924, there were 166 deaths from alcoholism.

Coroner Wolf said that the increase in deaths from alcoholism was due to the fact that the law makes it hard for a person to get a drink of alcohol. He said that the law makes it hard for a person to get a drink of alcohol.

OSCAR WOLF, Coroner.

Prohibition as enforced today is an "evil," the coroner was moved to comment. "The law makes it hard for a person to get a drink of alcohol, and it is too easy to buy bottled moonshine, poisonous alcohol, and make beer."

Wolf said that the increase in deaths from alcoholism was due to the fact that the law makes it hard for a person to get a drink of alcohol. He said that the law makes it hard for a person to get a drink of alcohol.

The prince came to Chicago on a passport six months ago. When it came time for him to leave he didn't want to go. Then, it is charged, arrangements were made whereby he and Attorney Dole went to Windsor, Canada, ostensibly on the way back to Persia.

Shortly after Avoo returned as Joseph Malik, an American citizen.

IZAIAK WALTONS PRAISE CHICAGO CITY WOODLAND

Urge Forest Preserves for Other Centers.

Chicago's forest preserves came in for high praise yesterday when a committee of the Izaak Walton League of America in a report on reforestation recommended that all other American cities follow Father Dearborn's example and either create or preserve municipal woods.

"Chicago is the pioneer in this," the report said. "She has a wonderful system of forest preserves and both the city and the county are to be highly commended. We recommend to other cities of the country that they do likewise."

The report was that of the reforestation committee of the league, of which Col. W. B. Greeley, chief of the United States forestry service, is the chairman. It recommended also that the league adopt municipal preservation and regrowing of woods as a part of its formal platform.

Earlier Dr. A. M. Buswell, chief of the Illinois State Water Survey, had vigorously warned the members of the league that the Illinois river now is found to have been thoroughly polluted—so much so that most of the fish that once inhabited and bred in it have been poisoned and died.

Dr. Buswell also said that there have been cases where boys in the rural communities along the river have gone swimming in the river and adjacent "old swampy holes" fed by the river and have come out infected by the poisoned water.

"Snails are the hardest form of marine life," Dr. Buswell said. "They can stand almost anything. But dead snails have been found in the lakes into which the river empties some of its water, and they have been found out in the middle of these, where the waters are the clearest, indicating that those waters, too, have become tainted."

He added that much of the pollution consists of offal from the Chicago packing industry, the remainder coming from towns and cities along the way which have no sewage treatment plants. He said there are along the river 128 cities which have no sewage treatment and which simply dump their garbage into the stream.

In the evening Hal G. Everts, outdoor editor of the Saturday Evening Post, addressed the delegates and their guests on "Outdoor America."

"There cannot be less than 15,000,000 of our citizens," Mr. Everts said, "who are or should be vitally interested in the conservation, if they hope to continue their favorite pastimes, whether their hobbies consist of hunting, fishing, study of bird life, the following of the trap line, or merely seeking rest and recreation."

Washington, D. C., April 3.—(Special.)—John Van A. MacMurray, an assistant secretary of state and probably the best informed man in the department of far eastern questions, has been selected as minister to China by President Coolidge. It was made known today.

His appointment to succeed Jacob Gould Schurman, the present minister to China, who has been shifted to Berlin to fill the vacancy left by the transfer of Ambassador Alanson Houghton to London, is expected within the next few days.

SOX STAGE HARD DRILL PREPARING FOR START NORTH

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.
Shreveport, La., April 3.—[Special.]

Instead of staging another battle among his own players, Boss Edie Collins today gave the White Sox a final day of intensive batting and fielding drill. There will be a ball game each day now until the Sox reach Detroit on the day before the season opens, and Edie thinks that will furnish sufficient work.

The squad arrived from New Orleans and Baton Rouge this morning and were on the field at 10:30 a. m., where they went through the work under broiling hot sun that made the perspiration flow most freely. With the exception of two or three pitchers, the White Sox squad is in condition right now to go at top speed.

Nine More Practice Games.
There are nine games yet to be played before the Sox face the Tigers on opening day. Games here tomorrow and Sunday will wind up the training in the Shreveport camp. One game in Little Rock, one in Asheville, two in Evansville, one in Terre Haute, and two in Indianapolis, will follow.

Some stiff opposition is likely to be found in the remaining games, especially the two with the Indianapolis club, which has been training in Florida and has bunched several of the big league outfits training in that state. But it will take stiff opposition to down the Sox the way they have been performing.

There is considerable speculation among the players regarding the pitcher for the opening game in Detroit. Manager Edie himself admits he does not know yet which will be favored with assignment. Undoubtedly he has hopes of sending Ed Red to the rubber, but it isn't assured.

Robertson in Shape.
"Charley" Robertson seems just a bit ahead of all cats. His work in New Orleans was superb. Faber wasn't cutting loose with all he had, and doesn't want to for at least another week. Thurston's arm is ready now, but his ankle hasn't fully recovered. Ted Lyons, however, is more than ready to do Blanksen's job, though his arm is O. K.

KEARIN'S 501 WINS OAK PARK POLICE SHOOT

With a score of 501 out of a possible 600, Sgt. Tom Kearin yesterday won the diamond medal offered by the Oak Park Real Estate board to the best shot on the Oak Park police department. The medal, which must be won three consecutive times to acquire the permanent property of any officer, was won by Sgt. Kearin for the last two years, but the best he could do yesterday was 481, which landed him in third place. Officer Sid Eason, second with 491, and Sgt. Ben Barsness, fourth with 484.

FARM AND GARDEN BY FRANK RIDDWAY

CLOTHESPINs are now listed among garden accessories by experts of the National Garden bureau. They are not used to hang up plants but to peg them down. It is said by gardeners who have used clothespins they are handy in pegging down plants and guiding and directing growing, running and trailing plants. The vine or plant may be pegged down neatly by sticking clothespins over the branches and forcing the prongs into the soil.

Here is another good suggestion: Tomatoes make good stakes for dahlias and other high growing plants in the flower and vegetable garden. Planting laths also are good stakes for supporting crops that have long trailers which must be held up off the ground to protect pods or blossoms. Stout stakes, made by nailing two or three laths together, are needed for heavy vines such as tomatoes or tall growing pole beans. Three foot-poles were tacked to stout stakes along the new maize ideal supports for early Oakland, Cal., April 3.—[Special.] Very little was accomplished by the Cubs today. An incipient rain tumbled down during the morning hours, but at noon the heavens cleared and the players were able to run about at Ewing field. The diamond, however, was flooded and a game was out of the question.

Two More at Oakland.
